By way of background, the Liaison Committee is composed of six members of the Family Law Bar who work with members of Administration and the Bench to creatively deal with some of the difficulties and challenges we face as a Family Law Bar. This Committee assists in the development of innovative solutions to some of these issues, seeking input from the Bar and raising issues identified by the Bar with the Committee.

This year Jennifer Suzor, Kristen Hales and Melissa Bachalo have ended their two year terms and are stepping down. We need a lawyer from each of the three categories to replace them.
